McCarthy Cancels Boston Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) today cancelled at the request of Senate Republican leaders his plans to open hearings in Boston tomorrow on alleged Communism in defense plants.

Sen. Knowland (Calif.) disclosed this in the Senate when Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) began a speech protesting McCarthy's plans.

Knowland interrupted and announced that McCarthy "has agreed to cooperate." He told Flanders "it will not be necessary to object."

Minutes later, Francis P. Carr, McCarthy's staff director, said McCarthy had agreed not to have any out of town sessions. He said McCarthy would have hearings here Monday and Tuesday to question some of the witnesses he had planned to interrogate in Boston.

Flanders said he was protesting McCarthy's plans because "I doubt if the committee has jurisdiction." He said it was a matter involving private industry instead of government operations.

A SECOND REASON for objecting, Flanders said, is that "the senator has a date with me on the floor of the Senate July 20" when Flanders plans to seek a test on his efforts to have McCarthy fired from committee chairmanships or censured.

On that same date, which is next Tuesday, McCarthy may face a new effort by some members of his investigations subcommittee to force a shake up of the subcommittee staff.

Sen. Potter (R-Mich.), who is pressing for a shake up, said "I'll stand pat" despite McCarthy's blocking of his first efforts.

Potter and three Democratic subcommittee members, a majority of the seven-man subcommittee, are seeking the dismissal of some McCarthy-appointed aides on the group's staff. They are believed to include two aides who have been denied security clearance by the Defense Dept.

In a closed-door meeting yesterday at which heated words were exchanged McCarthy:

1. Announced he would launch public hearings in Boston Saturday to explore his charges of Communist infiltration of defense plants, without waiting for any showdown on the staff.

2. Threw out the proxy vote of the absent Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.). Sen. Symington (D-Mo.) had tried to cast it in favor of Potter's motion to fire on July 31 any staff aide not confirmed in his job by a majority subcommittee vote before that date.

3. RECESSED the meeting until Tuesday noon after Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) had proposed a less drastic motion for judging who, if anyone, should be fired.

Tuesday also is the day when Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.), has announced he will move to force a test vote in the Senate on his demands that McCarthy be stripped of committee chairmanships or be censured.

The 12-member Republican Senate Policy Committee announced yesterday it was lined up unanimously behind Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate GOP floor leader, in his announced plans to try to kill the Flanders motion.

Flanders says he wants the Wisconsin senator removed from committee chairmanships to end what he terms McCarthy's "destructive" force in the Republican party. The policy committee gave no reason for opposing his move.

Symington and Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) both disputed McCarthy's decision refusing to count the absentee vote for McClellan, which would have assured a 4-3 margin for Potter's motion on the subcommittee staff. But they said they could not appeal the decision without encountering a 3-3 tie vote, which would have allowed McCarthy's ruling to stand.

McCarthy ruled that McClellan's proxy, telegraphed from Arkansas where he is campaigning for re-nomination, was a "blanket" document drafted to meet any situation. He contended subcommittee rules require that such votes be drafted to cover specific issues.

Just what the procedure will be when the subcommittee meets again Tuesday McCarthy declined to say. But Potter declared: "I've made my motion and I'll stand pat on it."

Crash Victim Dies in Hospital

Tenth Traffic Death In County This Year

Fayette County's tenth traffic death so far this year came shortly before noon Friday, when Floyd Malcolm, Jr., 27, of Weir, Kans., died. He was seriously injured when his car left the James-town Road at West Lancaster, Tuesday afternoon, and was almost demolished.

Malcolm sustained a fractured skull and other injuries. He was unconscious from the first. He never regained consciousness completely.

His mother and wife were here at the time of his death, his mother having remained here and his wife coming soon after the accident.

With Malcolm at the time of the accident was his father, Lloyd Malcolm, Sr., suffering mentally, and his brother, Harold, both of whom escaped serious injury.

Too much speed on the curve at West Lancaster was said to have been the cause of the accident.

Sheriff Hays said he had not been able to determine exactly what had happened just before the fatal accident. He said he had been told that the mentally deranged elder Malcolm, who had been violent at times while confined to the jail in Chillicothe while his family was en route to get him and take him back to Kansas, had been tramping on the excelsior when his son tried to slow the car.

Now, with the driver dead and the father incompetent, the cause of the crash probably will never be known. One thing appeared certain—the car was going too fast to make the turn, from whatever the cause.

Malcolm is survived by his parents; his widow; two sons, Michael Wayne and Stephen Douglas, and his brother, Harold, of Cherokee, Kans.

Arrangements for the funeral are in charge of the Gerstner Funeral Home, and the body will be sent by train to Pittsburg, Kans., Saturday.

Man, 73, Convicted In Slaying Case

MOUNT GILEAD (AP)—Dave Keen, 73, of Johnsons yesterday was convicted of first-degree manslaughter in the May 28 slaying of his stepson. He pleaded self-defense. He claimed the stepson, Stuart Price, 30, of Port Clinton, tried to take his life savings of $2,600.

Keen shot and wounded himself after Price died of chest wounds. He had been charged with second-degree murder. Sentence was delayed until July 31 to allow a medical examination of Keen.

Burglar Revealed To Be Only TV Set

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Four police cars raced to a house where a burglary was reported in progress.

"There's a man in there with a flashlight," warned Mrs. Lucille Patterson, returning home from a movie.

Officers charged inside and discovered the light was cast by a TV set which Mrs. Patterson had forgotten to turn off.

Explosion-Torn Maryland Town Ordered Evacuated

Doctor Tells How He Gunned Down Wealthy Playboy-Suitor of His Wife

ALLEGAN, Mich. (AP)—"There I was standing in a room. I saw my wife in shorts. There was Jules Lack. There was a gun going off. He was all bloody. There were people screaming. . . . I guess I shot him. I don't remember. I must have."

Thus in terse, vivid sentences Dr. Kenneth B. Small, 31, a Detroit dentist, described yesterday before a packed courtroom all he remembered of the May 29 shooting of his wife's suitor.

Dr. Small claims he was temporarily insane when Lack, 45, New York playboy-industrialist, was shot and killed in a southwestern Michigan rendezvous with Mrs. Edith Small.

The dentist, his voice quivering with emotion, described the scene when his wife, returning from a vacation alone in Florida, told of meeting Lack and asked for a divorce. Dr. Small said:

"I asked her if this man had said he loved her.

"She said she did not know but she loved him.

"He has two kids nicer than ours," she told me.

"I said: 'Do you mean to tell me another man's children are dearer to you than your own?"

"She said again that they were nicer than our children."

Mrs. Small, 30, a dark-eyed brunette, is the mother of three sons.

Dr. Small said his wife, who left the courtroom while he was on the stand, also told him: "You don't know how to live. I want to live big now."

The dentist told of tracing his wife to the plush summer home near Douglas, Mich., where the shooting occurred, through a phone call she made home. She had said she planned to spend the weekend with a former college roommate in Chicago.

Dr. Small told of tracing the call and "I started to drive. There was rain and storm that night. I had to see for myself if she was with Lack. I prayed she wouldn't be there. It was like you get some place but don't know how you get there."

The dentist's stay on the stand was interrupted when Defense Atty. Leo Hoffman called the first of three psychiatrists who will testify for the defense.

Dr. Harry August, chairman of the Michigan Mental Health Commission, said Dr. Small was insane when he killed Lack.

Hoffman asked him when did the dentist "become insane to the point of being unable to restrain impulses?"

"It was when he received the phone call," Dr. August said. "The mental turmoil had mounted to the point where his restraint was nullified. He was unable to restrain himself when he saw his wife and Lack together."

Elm Street To Be First Street Resurfaced in Improvement Program

At the present time the street crew under direction of Supt. Clyde Smith, is completing drainage of Elm Street from Columbus Avenue south to Willard Street, with a view to having the street resurfaced with hot mix from Fayette Street to Columbus Avenue, during August.

For many years the drainage of the street, particularly on the east side, has been bad, with the result that it has impaired the roadbed with too much moisture, which has made it difficult to maintain the surface of the street.

In addition to the drainage at the sides, three catchbasins are being installed along the street, and this work will be completed within the next few days.

When Elm Street is paved with hot mix, the surface will be smooth and the paving should last for many years.

Calls for bids are being made and it is estimated that the resurfacing will cost approximately $15,000. When the paving is completed, several times as much traffic will use the street as there is at the present time, it is predicted.

Incidentally the funds for paving the street will be the first funds used for permanent improvement, coming from the special tax levy voted last fall.

For years the surface of Elm

DETROIT (AP)—Joe V. Gonzales, 22, saw a car stalled on a busy Detroit thoroughfare.

He assumed it needed a push. So he drove his car behind it and pushed. Before they got far, the pushed car veered over and hit another car.

Gonzales had failed to notice the driver of the stalled car was not in it. He had gone to buy some gasoline.

"Whenever I see a man in trouble I want to help out," Gonzales explained in Traffic Court yesterday. He was fined $25 and agreed to pay damages totaling $375.

French-Russian Talks Deadlocked

GENEVA (AP)—French Premier Pierre Mendes-France raced the clock today in a quest to win an Indochina cease-fire based on division of Viet Nam at the 18th parallel. But his efforts were set back by a four-hour session with Russia's stubborn V. M. Molotov.

French sources said last night's meeting with the Soviet Foreign Minister resulted in complete deadlock. Both statesmen stuck to their positions and no progress was reported.

The partitioning of disputed Viet Nam was said to have been the main topic of the parley which broke up early this morning.

Mendes-France was reported to have pressed for a cease-fire line running from Dong Hoi on the Vietnamese coast, westward to Thakhek, on the Laotian border.

Western diplomats said the Communists seemed willing to do business, but that they were dickering for a bigger chunk of Viet Nam, most important of the three associated Indochinese states.

THE REDS APPEARED to be seeking a compromise between the 18th Parallel across Viet Nam's narrow waist and their original demand for partition at the 14th Parallel.

The French want to hold the line at least to the 17th Parallel. To set it below that point would mean handing over to the Communist-led Vietminh the important air and naval base at Tourane and the old Annamese capital of Hue.

Loss of the latter particularly would be a severe blow to the prestige of ex-Emperor Bao Dai, chief of state for the government the French have set up.

Mendes-France has hinted he might be persuaded to turn over Viet Nam's war capital of Hanoi to Ho Chi Minh's forces.

But the premier was reported holding out stubbornly to retain at least temporary control of Haiphong, the major port through which the French may have to evacuate their forces.

In return for retaining Haiphong, 65 miles east of Hanoi and well

Senators Say U. S. Foreign Aid Program Paying Off

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee said today the U. S. foreign aid program has "paid off in greater total free-world strength."

In a report to the Senate urging approval of a $3.1 billion foreign aid program for the current year, the committee majority said the American-assisted military buildup in Western Europe in the four years since the Communist attack in Korea has had this result:

"The Soviets could no longer launch an attack without noticeable advance preparation."

The report conceded that the free world situation in Asia was less rosy, but it added:

"Allied reverses in Indochina are not legitimate grounds for defeatism; on the contrary, they are cause for renewed and stronger efforts to build an effective system of collective security in that part of the world."

"On balance, the United States need not be dismayed by the continuance of the Soviet threat."

"WE HAVE MANY strong allies, and the mutual security program

Fireworks Rip Area; Rescue Try Hampered

90-Minute Blast Series Felt 16 Miles Away; Death Toll Uncertain

CHESTERTOWN, Md. (AP)—A fireworks and munitions plant on the west edge of Chestertown blew up today in a 90-minute series of explosions felt as far as 16 miles away. Authorities ordered the whole town of 3,140 persons evacuated.

By 1:30 p. m., six bodies had been recovered from the flaming ruins. Two were found in an assembly line building when firemen finally were able to fight their way into the area.

It was known that 275 persons were at work, but flames and continuing explosions prevented rescue operations for hours after the first blast.

Tom Small, a worker who said he was in the first building that went up, reported seeing one dead person. He could not identify the man.

CHICAGO (AP)—A series of explosions in a fireworks plant today shook the western suburb of Schiller Park. Police headquarters received a report that at least one person was killed. Several others were reported injured.

Ohio Water Situation Serious Again

COLUMBUS (AP)—The state Division of Water says the water situation in Ohio is serious again.

The division reported the mean water level for June was lower in all wells surveyed than at the same time last year, and lower than the average mean of the month of June in the last five years.

This is a continuation of a trend that started from three to five years ago, division officials said, adding that ten of the index wells operated by the division recorded lower levels this month than last.

Water division men expect the water levels will continue to fall for the next few months and think the declines will about parallel the five-year average.

Precipitation in June came mainly in the form of local thunderstorms which took place the first half of the month. Because these storms were scattered and local in character, the amount of rainfall varied widely over the state.

Storms in general were intense and associated with high temperatures resulting in heavy immediate runoff and high evaporation loss.

As a result, said water officials, the soil remained deficient in moisture except for a day or two immediately following the storms.

'Don't You Dare Bite My Dog'

GALVESTON (AP)—This could have made news.

Deputy Constables Johnnie Cuccia and Frank Bankston approached an address where they were to serve a warrant yesterday.

A large dog ran from the rear of the house and began growling in an unfriendly manner. "What will I do if he bites?" Cuccia asked.

"Just bite him back," Bankston answered.

From inside the house a woman's voice yelled: "Don't you dare bite my dog!"

Can't Fix Car, So He Burns It Up

ANDERSON, S.C. (AP)—It was 103 in the shade here yesterday and James McDowell, 22, was out in the sun half the day trying to fix the carburetor on his 1946 model car.

He couldn't fix it. So he bought a nickel's worth of gasoline, sloshed it over the car and tossed a match onto it. Then he relaxed in a rocker on a nearby porch, remarking "Let 'er burn."

The violation of a city ordinance against starting a fire near a dwelling cost him a $25 fine.

Radio Forecasts Taken Seriously

KAMPALA (AP)—Uganda government radio station is dropping its broadcasts of weather forecasts. Native African listeners, officials found, considered the prediction a definite government promise.

If the weather didn't match the forecast, the officials said, the natives held it proved that all the government announcements made that day are "a pack of lies."

Meanderings

By Wash Fayette

These are glorious days for the sparrows, pigeons, doves and a few other grain-loving birds.

Each year at threshing time the highways and streets are sprinkled with wheat which sifts from the trucks and wagons moving wheat from farm to elevators.

Not only will the birds have a super abundance of food now, but for weeks hence they will be feasting on the crushed grains of wheat scattered over the streets and roads.

I have seen some of the birds so busy eating that they nearly lost their lives as an automobile dashed over their feeding grounds. But the birds scattered in all directions, some barely missing being caught by the rapidly moving vehicle.

City Fireman Maynard L. Denen did not mind that 102-degree heat Wednesday, that is, not too much.

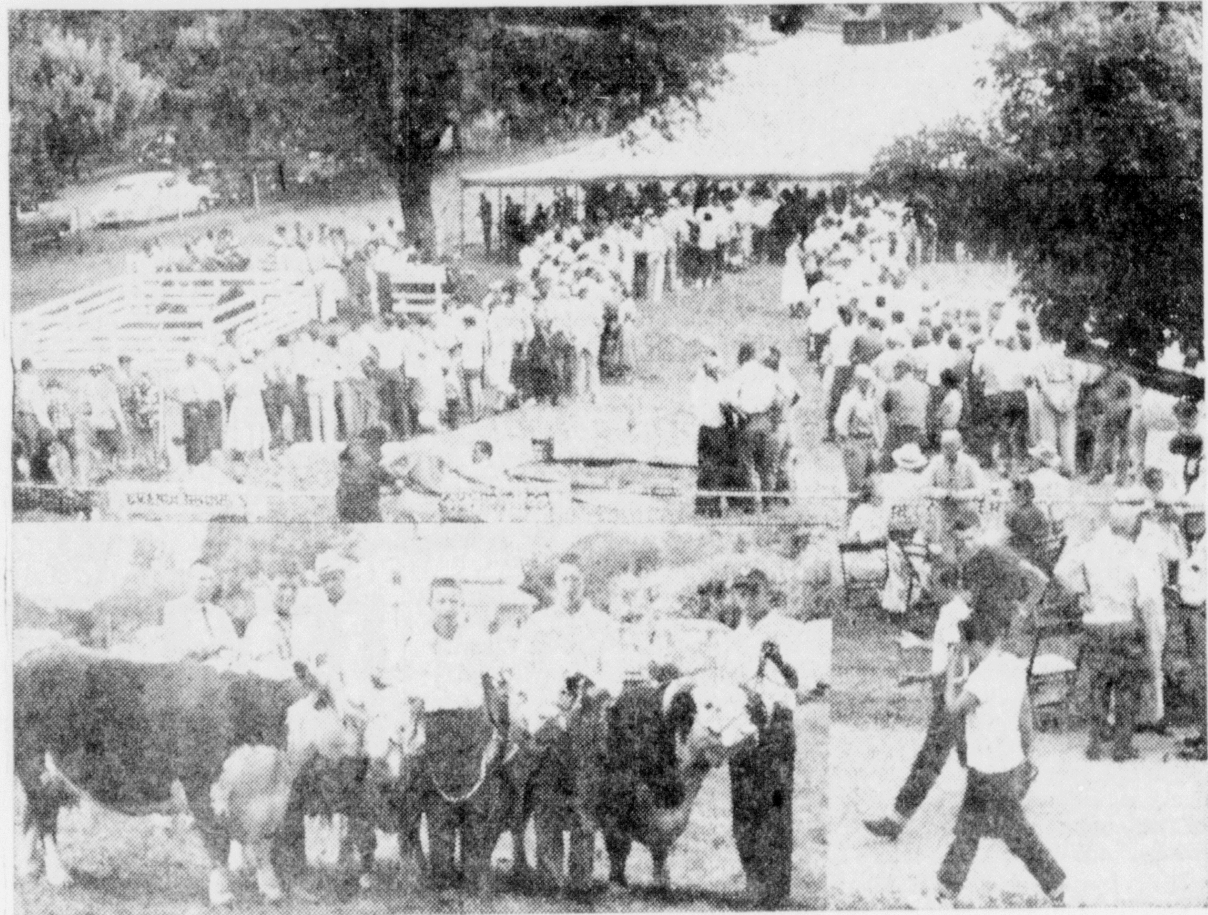

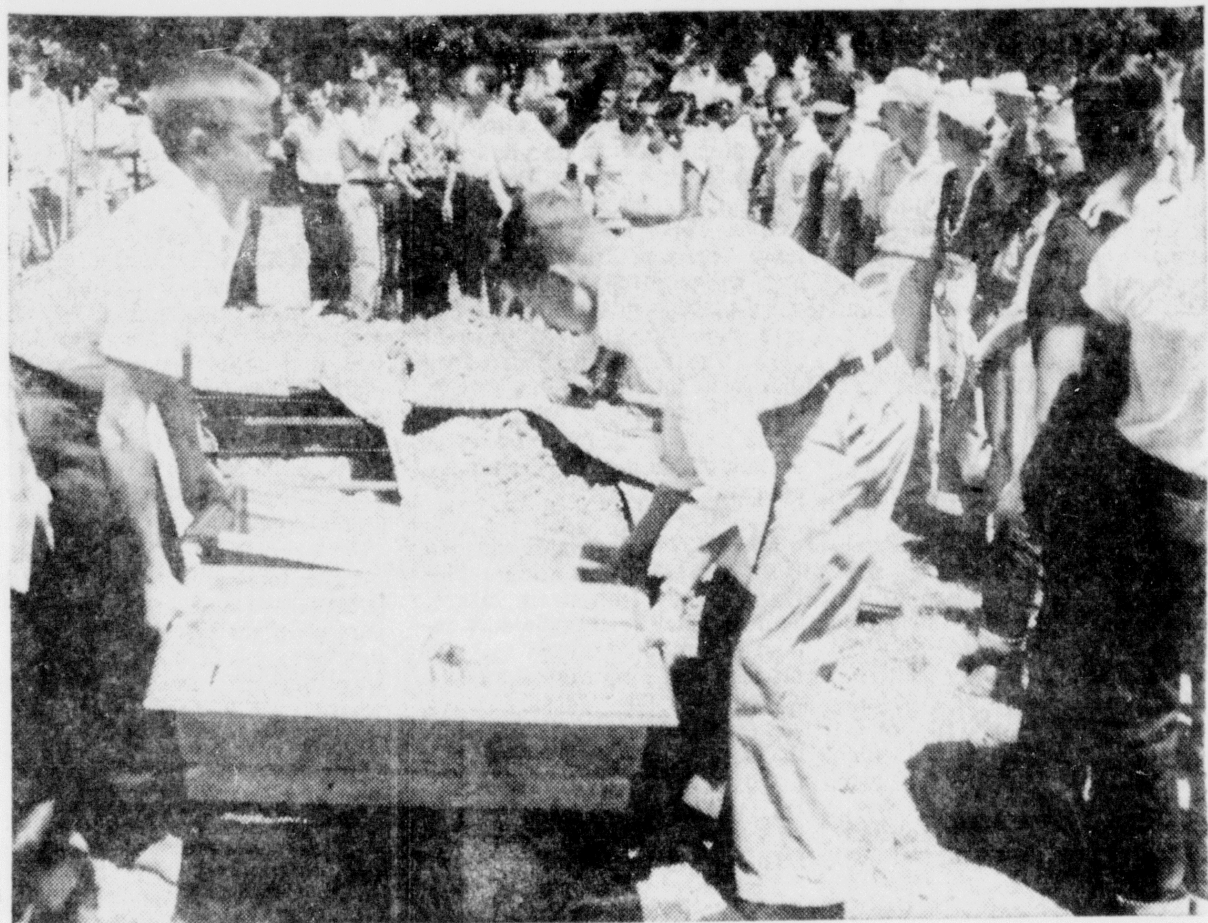

You see Maynard was a gunnery sergeant with the U. S. Marines, when they stormed and captured Pelien Island in the South Pacific during the world war and survived heat of 138 degrees, recorded by a government thermometer day after day.

Not only was the temperature terrific but the Japs made it hot for the Marines who retaliated and made it still hotter for the Japs by driving them from the Island, even though many of them took shelter in abandoned nitrate mines.

For weeks Maynard was hunting Japs on the island and the terrible heat made it almost impossible to move about during the daytime.

That was back in 1944, but the heat Wednesday did not bother Maynard, except to make him recall some of the unpleasant things on the Pacific hot spot.

Over 1000 at Hereford Meeting Featured by 4-H and FFA Judging

A SMALL PORTION OF THE CROWD estimated at more than 1,000 at the annual Ohio Hereford Association meeting at the Midland Hereford Farm at Bloomingburg Thursday watches a couple of boys (TOP PICTURE) help take the beef out of the barbecue pit. When the 290 4-H and FFA team finished judging the livestock, the lunch was served (LOWER PICTURE) under a big tent near the home of Dr. and Mrs. Don E. Mossbarger. Four boys from Champaign County (INSET IN LOWER PICTURE) pose for their pictures with four Herefords they had just judged. The boys, each holding a cow, are (left to right) Chuck Hughes, Roger Terry, Roger Yown and Roger Watman. (Record-Herald photo)

The girls made the boys look to their laurels in the cattle judging at the Ohio Hereford Association's annual barbecue and picnic at the Midland Hereford Farm of John and Dr. D. E. Mossbarger at Bloomingburg, Thursday.

There was a gathering estimated at more than 1,000 at the affair which was highlighted by the judging program for the young people.

William D. Griffith of Delaware County, turned in the best individual score card—a perfect 200—in the Future Farmers of America division. He will get a $250 scholarship to Ohio State University that is put up by Fred Jones, a Columbus insurance man. He goes to Elm Valley School at Ashley and his vocational agriculture teacher is Dave Barrett.

In the 4-H division, four tied for the top individual honors. Two of them were girls. While they were judging an extra ring of Herefords to determine the winner, a collection was quickly and quietly taken up to give all four $250 scholarships. That meant that $750 was contributed (the donors remained anonymous) to which was added the $250 put up by Jones.

Wilbur Swaney of Ross County, came out in front in the judging of the extra ring of cattle and got one of the $250 scholarships to OSU. The other three who will get similar scholarships were Janice Brackney of Champaign County, Jo Ann Bennett of Clinton County, and John Buroker of Logan County.

PARTICIPATING in the judging were 56 FFA teams of three-members each (both boys and girls) and 22 4-H teams.

The winning team in the FFA division was from Northeastern School in Clark County and it was made up of Lawrence Neer, Marshall Goodfellow and David Groves. It made a score of 585 and the teacher is Paul Raines.

The second place team also was from Northeastern and it was made up of Stan Angus, Kenny Filburn and Dick Teach. It scored 583 and the teacher is Daryl Dean.

Third was the team from Groveport with a score of 576. On it were Ralph Tolbert, Robert Kirk and Roger Klainforth. The teacher is Franklin Miller.

Fourth with a score of 575 was the team from Cardington. On it were Ralph Strohl, Dale Shaffer and Kenneth Rengert. The teacher is Lawton McClintock.

Fifth was the team from Elm Valley headed by William Griffith with a perfect score. The other boys were Jim Wornstaff and Rolan Aurburger. The score was 574.

The Washington C. H. School team of Larry Stephenson, Roger Gorman and Garry Cockerill did not place among these getting awards.

IN THE 4-H division, first place was taken by a Ross County team with a score of 581. On it were Carl Jones, Junior Woods

Good Grooming Interests Youth

4-H Sponsored Clinic Attracts Many

More than 100 boys and girls in the county's 4-H program gathered in the Dayton Power & Light Co. auditorium to learn some of the fine points of good grooming.

Albert G. Cobb, the associate county agent, and Mrs. Wayne Woodyard, the home demonstration agent, who handled the arrangements for the clinic and supervised the 4-H program, admitted the turnout was a little bigger than they had anticipated and said they were impressed by the keen interest the boys and girls took in improving their personal appearance through good grooming.

While they said they were not surprised in the interest the girls took in it, they added that the boys showed fully as much enthusiasm for the program.

After the starch was taken out of the meeting with the singing of songs led by Jackie Hoppes and Barbara Kneisley, the clinic got down to cases.

MRS. WOODYARD presided over and Wilbur Swaney.

Second place was taken by a Madison County team of Shirley Overturf, Helen Boerger and Patty Houck with a score of 577.

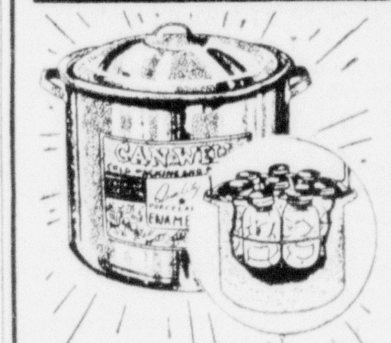

Third place went to a Belmont County team of Joe Mora, Dick Zimmerman and George Shippey with 575.

A team from Guernsey County and one from Champaign County tied for fourth and fifth places with 574 points each. On the Guernsey County team were Jim Spence, Kenneth Shugert and Harold House and on the Champaign County team were Bill Brackney, Kay Channell and Janice Brackney.

Two Fayette County teams in the 4-H division were not too far down the list. The one made up of Roger Bonham, Joan Bonham and Jeannie Coil had a card of 563 and the one made up of Bob Montgomery, Pat Scott and Rosalyn Marting tallied 485.

The youthful cattle judges came from all over the state, as did the grownups who watched them perform in the morning and then heard some short talks in the afternoon.

A demonstration of correct dress was given by members of the Busy Beaver club under the leadership of Sue Christopher and a cookie baking demonstration was given by Karma Knox and Pauline Davis.

Mrs. Patti Briggs, a home economics specialist of the DP&L, carried on the running commentary.

Miss Gretchen Darlington, senior nurse of the Health Department, discussed health problems, which included good posture and its relation to good grooming.

For the program for the boys, Eli Craig of the Craig Store men's department discussed the selection of clothing and Harold (Babe) Maddux of the Maddux Barber Shop the boys about the care of their hair and shaving.

Cobb said the number and kind of questions asked by the boys after the two talks was a indication of the deep interest in their personal appearance.

Juvenile Delinquency and What Parents Do

Every town and every community has cases of definite and clearly defined juvenile delinquency.

Some localities, depending upon the type of inhabitants, congestion of living quarters and other influences, are far worse than others in the number of such cases.

The civic discipline in such places, officially and in homes, is a very important factor in widespread or much restricted juvenile delinquency.

It must be recognized, however, that there can be little disagreement with the generally accepted idea that chief responsibility for much juvenile delinquency must be assumed by parents. Police, schools and even the church, cannot be held to account for failure of parents to exercise proper influence with their children.

Boys and girls who are left too much to their own devices, either by day or night, too often are bound to fall in with bad companions and to learn evil ways. Those who are never subjected to discipline and proper influences at home, unless they are very unusual youngsters, hardly can be expected to show perfect behavior in public.

Recently, we heard of one prominent official, in speaking before a conference of citizens on juvenile delinquency, who gave this situation a novel and effective twist. He called attention to the fact that there is a definite relationship between a child's concept of law and order and adult attitudes "toward income tax evasion, traffic ticket fixing, and the simple instructions to a child to tell the bill collector mama isn't home—when she is."

The point he made was that juvenile delinquency often is the final product of what parents do as well as of what they fail to do.

Concept of Unity

The news has been made known that Canada will transfer 110 more Sabre jet fighters to Greece and Turkey. Spare engines will go along with the planes. The Sabres will be reconditioned in Great Britain before delivery. This is NATO at work. The North Atlantic Treaty means mutual aid. One country helps another, for the good of all. The biggest burden of financing Western Europe's military buildup has fallen to the United States, but other countries are giving what they can, as in this instance.

Greece and Turkey are giving mainly manpower, plus strategic location and a willingness to face up to the potential enemy though he be next door. The Turks have the name of being bloody. But the qualities that made the Turks terrible are being channeled into organized and modern armed might. They were good soldiers in Korea; they are strong guards for NATO's farthest outpost.

The Eisenhower Administration plans to increase military aid to Turkey, Greece, Turkey and Yugoslavia have formed an alliance against Russia. Gen. Alfred Gruenther, NATO commander, said the other day that Western Europe is stronger than ever before to meet a Soviet attack if it comes. The free world's cause is not altogether beset by disunity and uncertainty. It is somehow reassuring to be reminded of this, and perhaps only natural to wish that more purpose and resolve could mark all Allied efforts.

City Said Best Place In Summer

NEW YORK (AP)—The best place to spend the summer now is in the city.

Let a friend of mine explain why.

"I live in an air-conditioned apartment and work in an air-conditioned office," he said. "I've figured out a way to get to and from work in 33 minutes a day. That means I have to spend only 2 hours and 45 minutes outdoors from Monday through Friday.

"On Friday evening I put on my pajamas and hibernate in them until Monday morning. I don't have to worry about the heat, or mosquitoes, or sunburn, or stepping on cockleburs.

"By staying home I save money, catch up on all the books I want to read, I have even had time to get acquainted with my wife—imagine that, after all these years—and she has turned out to be a pretty interesting fellow, now that we don't have all those quarrels about where to go for the summer and how to get there."

He'd be a happy guy except for one thing. He put it in one word:

"Commuters."

"Some of our friends who own country places and used to insist on having us out for the weekend," he complained, "now want to come and visit us in the city. They've heard about how pleasant and restful it is to spend a weekend in the city. I wish I knew what to do about it."

So I told him what to do about it. Give 'em the same kind of time in the city as they gave you in the country.

The suburban nature lovers invite a weekend guest from the city for two reasons, generally:

1. They actually are miserably lonely in their bullfrogechoing dale in the wildwood, and misery loves company.

2. They are afraid their boring country neighbors will drop over, and hope the guest from the city has a personality repulsive enough to frighten the neighbors away.

Using the same tactics, here is how the happy city dweller can repel an invasion of human locusts seeking relief from the discomforts of a summer in the country:

1. When they arrive, announce that your air conditioner has broken down and that means a weekend in Hades, as you have the hottest apartment in town.

2. Ask if they will please take a shower while you vacuum clean their clothing, and explain politely, "We know you are all right, but some suburbanites bring more wood ticks into the city than an Airedale."

3. Tell them you've invited the neighbors over, and add cheerily, "You'll love them both. Joe does card tricks, and Maude likes to keep a party going until dawn. Anyway it'll be so hot you won't be able to sleep."

4. At dinnertime you set up a barbecue grill in the dining room and announce, "There's nothing like the taste of hot dogs grilled over charcoal indoors." But be sure to put the charcoal on top of the grill and the hot dogs beneath it. Then pour lighter fluid over the hot dogs and set them afire. When the charcoal is unevenly cooked on both sides, put a chunk in a bun, and serve.

5. Put a few sharp-needed pine branches between the mattress and the sheets of your guests' bed, so they won't miss that woody smell.

6. Just before they creep wearily to bed hand them bottles of mosquito repellent, and warn them to use it liberally. As soon as they fall asleep put a record of "Flight of the Bumblebee" on the phonograph and play it over and over. This is real psychology. They'll twist and groan and sweat at the empty air for hours.

When they do climb sleepless from the sack, they'll chime: "Gee, you've been nice, but we'd better catch the next train back home. We're kinda homesick for the country, I guess."

"The city sure is fun to visit, but, gosh, we'd hate to live here."

As soon as they are gone you can turn on the air conditioner and relax. Don't worry. As soon as they spread word of their experience around, you'll have your cool ivory tower in the city safe for the rest of the summer.

Criticism of Russia Criticized

The Gray Manufacturing Company of Hartford, Conn., some time ago issued an advertisement in a number of publications showing a big, ferocious bear. The caption read: "The Truce of the Bear" and the following stanzas from Rudyard Kipling were quoted:

"When he stands up like a tired man, tottering near and near;
"When he stands up as pleading, in wavering, man-brute guise.
"When he veils the hate and cunning of his little swinish eyes;
"When he shows as seeking quarter, with paws like hands in prayer.
"That is the time of peril — the time of the truce of the bear!"

It was what is known as institutional advertising and expressed the views of Walter Ditmars, the president of the company. The advertisement was issued, as is customary, through an agency, French & Preston, Inc., and was printed in magazines. I do not know whether such advertisements sell the product of the company because no attempt to do that was made. Apparently Mr. Ditmars likes Kipling and dislikes Russia.

Thereupon the agency received a form letter from the "A.A.A.A.

Interchange of Opinion on Objectionable Advertising." This letter contained the following criticism:

"Poor taste, timing and handling. Giving ammunition to unfriendly nation. Could be used against us."

Mind you, the advertisement consists of nothing but the ferocious bear and Kipling's lines. Kipling has not been poor taste. Lo these many years and it is a little difficult to grasp how the particular unfriendly nation could become more unfriendly than it has been since 1948.

So James Selvaige who runs this advertising agency inquired at first politely as to who made the criticism, so that he could argue the point with him. No soap! The critic had to remain incognito although the criticism might reflect on the company sponsoring the advertisement, the agency and possibly even on Rudyard Kipling who never liked the Russians anyhow, he being a British imperialist in the days when the empire stood firm at the Khyber Pass.

Now, to give "ammunition to unfriendly nation," is a dangerous thing to do; it might even lead to a Congressional investigation or to an FBI field check. In effect, the anonymous author of the accusation, whose name was safely guarded during months of correspondence, says that to run an advertisement against Russia is to give Russia ammunition which is like saying that we must all agree with Malenkov lest disagreement perhaps annoy that roundish gentleman and cause him to get very angry and call us names such as Durak! or Bourgeoisie (I guarantee all editors and readers that these terms are not obscene, only offensive, and that they may be published without fear of arrest.)

The author of the protest may be an honest man; he may be well intentioned. Certainly the organization which distributed the anonymous criticism is worthy and the idea of an interchange of ideas among the hucksters is of the best. We writers are partial to hucksters who provide the revenue on which we live. But I do not understand the criticism nor did Mr. Ditmars who wondered that the fellow meant, if he meant anything at all, or is he one of those who believes that anybody, Eisenhower, Truman, Herbert Hoover, Winston Churchill, the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, Haile Selassie and Farouk, recently of Egypt, may be torn apart, limb from limb, but do not — for heaven's sake — do not ever say anything against Russia or the Communists, lest they get angry and throw a net at us.

There are such people, although their logic is not understandable. And that leads to a fantastic term which has come into our language, the anti-anti-Communist. (Please repeat anti twice, but not three times.) This is a person who dislikes Communists but even more so dislikes anti-Communists. He puts them all in the same barrel, but the way it works out, he really helps the Communists by fighting their active enemies. They prefer to strangle Marxism by sweetness and light which Marx, Engels and Lenin debunked long ago.

The magazine, "Time," recently referred to me as the high-priest of anti-Communism which I took as a very great compliment, particularly from that publication. I suppose the anti-anti-Communists felt that "Time" had knocked me for a loop. Who knows the follies of the human mind.

Diet and Health No Odor from Sweat Before Bacteria Hits

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Recently, scientific investigators devised a method of obtaining pure, fresh sweat from the glands of the armpit.

They inserted ultra-fine glass tubes into the opening of these glands and collected the moisture given off.

There is no odor to this sweat. The characteristic smell of perspiration was absent, and only appeared after it had been allowed to stand for several hours. When it was collected in such a manner that germs or bacteria could not reach it, no odor developed at all.

This proved that the cause of odor is bacterial growth in the body secretions.

To Reduce Bacteria

Certain soaps containing an antiseptic known as hexachlorophene have been shown to reduce the amount of skin bacteria for a considerable length of time.

Washing with a solution containing this chemical does afford some protection.

Studies have shown that the hair that grows in the armpit is the greatest storage place for odor-causing bacteria and, of course, it is almost impossible to sterilize the hair.

Varied Subsidies Bring Out Debate By Ray Tucker

WASHINGTON — The running battle between rural and urban blocs over the amount of future farm support prices has focused attention on a problem long neglected on Capitol Hill—namely, the tremendous total in subsidies which Uncle Sam pays out to so many special groups.

No interest which enjoys direct or indirect tribute from the Treasury—farmers, airplane companies, magazines and newspapers, the railroads, the shipbuilding industry—has been spared in the fierce exchange over "who gets what." Although there have been sporadic and feeble investigation of the question, it may be assigned to a special committee for exhaustive study.

ARGUMENT—The "city fellers" struck hard at their agricultural friends when they revealed on the basis of official figures that a few wealthy and basic crops had received small fortunes from Ezra T. Benson's handouts. They showed that slightly more than sixty growers had obtained from $100,000 to $1,200,000 in loans on 1953 crops.

Nor did it mollify the anti-subsidy members to learn that the famous King Ranch in Texas, supposedly the largest in the world, got about $32,000 in drought relief funds.

The statistics disclosed that 34 individuals or corporations had more than $11 million worth of cotton in hock to the government. The two largest, one in Mississippi and one in Texas, amounted to $1,269,492 and $1,246,516. The other states represented were Alabama, Arkansas, California, Louisiana, Missouri, New Mexico, South Carolina and Tennessee.

Twenty-six borrowers had $4.7 million worth of wheat under loan. Three producers of corn had borrowed $473,406 on their unsold 1953 surplus. All these figures refer only to 1953 transactions. The critics conceded that there was no taint of illegality in these transactions. They questioned simply the wisdom of a system which permitted such bonanzas.

PAYMENTS — Expressing a viewpoint that is growing rapidly throughout the farm areas, Sen. Michael J. Mansfield, Montana Democrat, retorted that the producers of food were the latest arrivals on the "subsidy gravy train." After referring to the tariff as a grant to industries, he listed federal payments exceeding the $74 million a year which, he declared, was the cost of the farm support program.

He charged that second-class mail was subsidized at $188,567,000 in 1951; that airlines drag down $80 million a year; that shipping construction has been underwritten at $40 million a year; that the Treasury spent $4.2 billion after the war to provide cheaper food; that business and industry were subsidized at $8 billion for seven years. And, of course, he recalled the land grants and other benefits to the railroads.

LOSSES — Mansfield also paid his compliments to certain national magazines and newspapers, especially in view of the fact that many have conducted editorial campaigns against high and rigid farm supports. He quoted Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield's remarks in defending his request for higher second and third-class postal rates:

"The total I last saw for all subsidies paid for the price-support program (for storable commodities) for farmers since 1933 was something like $752,000,000 whereas the loss in handling second class mail (newspapers and magazines) for the same period has been $2.4 billion."

Summerfield gave the following totals of losses in handling certain publications for the last quarter of 1952: Life, $2,151,000; Saturday Evening Post, $1,631,000; Ladies' Home Journal, $408,000; Collier's, $1,237,000; Readers' Digest, $917,000; Chicago Tribune, $447,000; New York Times, $425,000; Detroit Free Press, $38,000; St. Louis Post-Dispatch, $113,000; Los Angeles Times, $45,000.

Obviously, the farmers are weary of charges that they are "Uncle Sam's mendicants."

Fuel Gas Pipeline Expansion Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Ohio Fuel Gas Co. of Columbus, Ohio, has asked authority to expand its pipelines 46 miles in Ohio counties that would include Hocking, Jackson, Vinton and Fairfield.

It also asked the power commission for permission to add 3,000 compressor horsepower to its pipeline system. The $3,832,700 project would let the company receive additional natural gas from its Columbia Gas System affiliate, United Fuel Gas Co. at Charleston.

The company plans to build 17 miles of 20-inch pipe and 29 miles of 24-inch pipeline along existing lines in the four counties.

More Big Pipeline To Be Constructed

The Texas Eastern Transmission Corp., with headquarters in Shreveport, La., and which owns the three big gas mains that cross Fayette County four miles north of Washington C. H., is building 265 miles of 24-inch pipeline in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, to extend its distribution system.

The new line is scheduled for completion by mid-November and when completed will have a delivery capacity of 200,000,000 cubic feet of gas each day.

The line will extend from Oakford storage field in western Pennsylvania to near Lambertville, N. J.

Five rivers will be crossed by the new pipeline and each stream will be crossed by two lines, one 24 and the other 16 inches in diameter.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Promoters have admitted making millions in "windfalls" out of mortgages on apartments built with government-insured loans. Did they commit a crime and, if so, can they be prosecuted?

There is no simple answer. Getting a "windfall" profit is not, by itself, a crime. This much can be said in a general way:

It would be a crime if the promoter, in order to get the "windfall," deliberately deceived the government on his application for a government-backed loan. Even so, prosecution would depend on when it happened.

If it was before 1951, there could be no prosecution. There could be if it happened since then. The reason: one kind of law covering this field ended in 1950. Another law, similar to it, began in 1951.

In order to punish a man for a pre-1951 fraud, the government would have had to prosecute within three years. It's too late now. Most of the "windfall" cases brought to light in the Senate Banking Committee's fiery hearings occurred before 1951. It's beginning now on cases that happened since then.

But the government could move in another direction — that is, in the tax field — against promoters who got "windfalls," whether or not they committed any fraud in obtaining the guaranteed loan.

If a businessman can report his income as a capital gain he pays less tax than if he reports it simply as income. The government has rules as to which way income can be reported.

If a promoter reported his "windfall" as a capital gain, the government, claiming now he should have reported it as income, can try to collect the difference. It's questionable whether it can collect.

During and after the war Congress wanted to encourage the building of apartments because of the housing shortage. It passed a law — under Title 6 of the National Housing Act — which expired in 1950.

Under this a promoter who wanted to build apartments could get a loan from a bank — with the government guaranteeing the bank against loss up to 90 per cent — if the Federal Housing Administration approved.

To get FHA approval, the promoter had to file an application with that agency, giving his estimate of the cost. Then, if FHA investigators approved, the bank would make the loan.

His estimate would include the price of the land, the builder's fee, the architect's fee, and so on. Say Jones estimated his cost at a million dollars, the FHA approved, and the bank, with a government guarantee up to $900,000, made the loan. Then Jones completed the project at a cost of only $700,000.

That was $200,000 below the estimated cost. Was this crooked? Not necessarily. Jones may have found, when work began, a way to cut the actual cost by $200,000.

That $200,000 has been called the "windfall." Say, further, Jones' company split this $200,000 up among the stockholders. The full loan of a million dollars still had to be paid.

Was this then a $200,000 profit for the Jones company? It could be because the government fixed the rents that could be charged in Jones' apartments according to the total estimated cost.

So long as the loan was paid off, the government lost no money. The only ones who got stuck were the tenants since they'd have to pay higher rents than the FHA would have allowed if the estimated cost had been only $700,000.

But Jones would have committed a crime if he had deliberately falsified the estimates on his application for the government-guaranteed loan. Yet, FHA investigators, having checked his estimates, had said his one million dollar estimate was all right.

Suppose there was crooked work — collusion between Jones and the FHA investigators. Could they be prosecuted? Not if it happened before 1951. Title 6 of the National Housing Act expired in 1950.

But in 1950 Congress passed Title 8 of the act. This was to encourage rental housing near military installations. It works similarly to the old Title 6 except that the Defense Department has to agree the housing is needed before the project is backed by a government-guaranteed loan.

Board and Room

Expansion Of State Parole System Sought By Director

COLUMBUS (AP) — Dr. John D. Porterfield, director of the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Corrections, is looking for money that will let him expand the state parole system.

The chief of the Division of Corrections, M. C. Koblenz, today told the director he would like to add more parole officers to reduce the work load of 48 officers in the field and three at institutions. He outlined a program that would cost about $35,000 a year.

Some parole officers now look after more than 100 cases.

Dr. Porterfield said he may have to go to the state controlling board in his search for funds. "I'm looking over our budget now to try to find the money some place," he said.

"We don't have the additional amount needed in this year's appropriation, but there may be some 'pockets' of money that could be used."

The "pockets," he explained, could be either unused funds for other items or money that has been set aside for other activities which the department doesn't think it will spend entirely.

"I'm in the process of finding out where those 'pockets' are," said Dr. Porterfield, who recently took over the direction of the department.

In most cases, he said, the controlling board would have to act on a request to transfer funds.

Glenn R. Kloppenstein, chief of the Bureau of Probation and Parole, said the amount Koblenz asked would be enough to hire about nine more parole officers but would leave little for their expenses. The starting salary for such a job is $300 a month.

Koblenz feels parole officers could be doing better jobs of rehabilitating former prisoners if each had fewer cases.

Some parole officers cover a number of counties, while thickly populated Cuyahoga County needs the services of 10 officers.

Both Dr. Porterfield and Kloppenstein emphasized that if more parole officers are hired, they want men qualified to deal with problems of paroled prisoners.

"We need men who will be sympathetic toward the paroles," Dr. Porterfield said, "not just officers who will be looking for a chance to slap paroles back in prison."

"If we can pick our own people instead of having to hire men sent to us, we can get some pretty good men," said Kloppenstein. "Our qualifications are high. When I told a friend what we demanded for a starting salary of $300 a month, he said 'If you find any, send them over to me and I'll hire them at $10,000 a year.'" with the reading of the poem, "Evening Contentment."

The meeting was closed with the club prayer and during the social hour the hostess served seasonable refreshments, assisted by her sister, Miss Helen Fults.

Guests included were Miss Corrine Barker and Mrs. Charles Keller.

Toasted rolls, with savory fillings, make a fine main course for a summer lunch. Try this combination: Split frankfurter rolls and spread with soft cheddar cheese, then open a can of small Norway sardines and arrange the sardines on top of the cheese. Place under the broiler for a few minutes — just long enough to half-melt the cheese and heat the sardines through. Serve with a salad of summer vegetables — lettuce, water cress, scallions, cucumbers — French dressing.

Terry Moore Is New Pilot For Phillies

CINCINNATI (AP) — Terry Moore had a major league ball club to manage today and the Philadelphia Phillies were hopeful the former center fielder of the St. Louis Cardinals' Gas House Gang, can rejuvenate the Whiz Kids.

Moore was handed his very first managerial assignment yesterday in a surprise road-trip shift. Terry took up where rough-hewed Steve O'Neill left off—directing the endeavors of a ball team in third place in the National League, 15 games behind the first-place New York Giants and a far piece from preseason expectations.

General Manager Roy Hamey announced that Moore was being called up to replace O'Neill in hopes he might be able to instill in the cooled-off 1950 National League pennant winners some of the "alert" type of play that characterized Moore's own play.

Hamey said the selection of Moore was "a shot in the dark," decided on after only 48 hours of serious deliberation.

O'Neill, veteran manager of long standing and onetime catcher with the Detroit Tigers, said the announcement that he was through came as a "bolt from the blue."

Moore had little to say. He pointed out he had seen the Phillies play twice in two years.

Moore, who also was a coach for the Cardinals following his 11th season as an active player, had planned, until tapped by Hamey, to retire and devote all his time starting next fall to a dance hall, bowling alley and cocktail lounge he owns near St. Louis.

One Man Faces Three Charges

Numerous Arrests
Are Made Here

Red light runners and speeders formed the majority of arrests made by police, the sheriff and state patrol over Thursday.

Joseph Schill was arrested by Sheriff Orland Hays, on a charge of reckless operation, following an accident on U. S. 22 east of Washington C. H.

Cleveland G. Mills, Carona, N. Y., faced three charges—running a red light on Clinton Avenue, reckless operation and driving 49 miles an hour in a 35 mile zone.

William T. Reisinger had no license plate on his trailer and was to be in municipal court Friday.

Robert Eugene Warner, Zanesville, was clocked at 43 miles on Clinton Avenue and William O. Reuter, Cincinnati, was picked up for running a red light.

John Daniel Brice, Cincinnati, was halted for running a red light and Lester Stevenson, Columbus for too much speed.

Picked up the previous day were Bernard J. Belinger, Ft. Larimer, N. M., speeding; Robert Ray McCreland, Wooster, speeding; and John J. Bellomy, driving 70 miles and hour on route 70.

Lawyer Group Raps Connell As New Judge

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nomination of James C. Connell for Northern Ohio district judge, denounced as "political" by the American Bar Assn., may come up again today before a Senate judiciary subcommittee.

"We want to act on it as soon as possible," Chairman Langer (R-ND) said. "Of course, I can't say what the action will be."

The strong voice of the ABA, the nation's biggest lawyer organization, was injected into the nomination of Connell, a Cleveland common pleas judge, at a hearing yesterday presided over by Langer.

With Connell sitting at Langer's right, the clerk read a letter from the ABA's committee on the federal judiciary opposing Connell as having the reputation of being "arbitrary, dictatorial and biased."

After citing Connell's handling of three cases, all invoking labor or loyalty matters, the committee chairman, Edward J. Fox Jr. of Easton, Pa., concluded:

"It becomes apparent therefore that in this instance the office of United States judge is being used primarily for political purposes and not to enhance the more perfect administration of justice."

In response to a reporter's question, Langer said the ABA had opposed only one other judicial nomination by President Eisenhower this year. The subcommittee, Langer said, approved the man, anyway. He did not name him.

Among the numerous witnesses who praised Connell as an able judge were Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio), who recommended him to the White House, and Sen. Burke (D-Ohio).

Ohio Sewage Control Shows Rapid Gains

COLUMBUS (AP)—Construction of new sewage treatment plants and expansion of old facilities stepped up rapidly in the first six months this year, the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board says.

The board's acting chairman, Dr. Ralph E. Dwork, who also is acting state health director, said during that time 15 municipalities either completed new treatment plants or put in improvements.

The municipalities are Logan, Wilmington, Marion, Ironton, Bluffton, Jackson, Miamisburg, Westerville, Bedford, Vandalia, Richwood, Hiram, Shreve, Lodi and Leroy.

Dr. Dwork said 10 other communities expect work on new plants or extended facilities will be done by the end of this year. The communities are Findlay, Lima, Athens, Cambridge, Oak Hill, Shelby, Coshocton, Piketon, Lexington and Newcomerstown.

During all of 1953 only 11 sewage projects were completed.

Dr. Dwork said 17 other communities have projects underway, but they will not be completed this year. The communities are Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, Akron, Steubenville, Lorain, Galion, Kent, Hubbard, Ashtabula, New Philadelphia, Oxford, Ottawa, Wadsworth, Waverly and St. Paris.

Dr. Dwork said the over-all construction program means Ohio now has 41 cities and 115 villages with sewage treatment plants the board lists as adequate.

Bouncing Good Time Had By Tot In Unusual Fall

CINCINNATI (AP)—A bunch of clotheslines probably saved the life of Judy Combs, four years old, who rolled off a fourth floor fire escape while asleep.

The child fell about 20 feet before landing on the clotheslines. They bounced her back onto the fire escape on the second floor of the apartment building.

Tesco Lovell, 17, who said he was awakened by the thump of Judy's body on the lines, went to her rescue. She wasn't even crying, he told officers.

After being treated for a cut on the head, the child was released from a hospital, Mrs. Mary Combs, the mother, said she was asleep beside the youngster and didn't miss her until awakened by neighbors.

The heat had caused the mother to move with the child to the fire escape.

3 New Foresters Named To Panel
